

neXgro is currently seeking an Operational Accountant to join our growing neXgro Grain Management team. This office-based role combines key accounting and grain management functions, ensuring efficient and seamless operations across the business.

neXgro SA is a transparent track-and-trace AgTech company that provides innovative data-driven solutions to the agricultural sector. Headquartered in Krugersdorp, the group has a national footprint and offers a wide range of grain-related services to producers, traders, and food processors throughout South Africa.

Key Responsibilities:

Accounting:

- Maintain accurate and up-to-date financial records for various companies and ensure intercompany transactions are balanced.
- Perform bookkeeping tasks, including journal entries, reconciliations, and adjustments.
- Manage and process full AR and AP transactions, including reconciliations and reporting of outstanding balances.
- Accurately record and categorize bank, cash, and credit card transactions in the accounting system.
- Track and update fixed asset records, including depreciation.
- Prepare the trial balance and ensure all accounts are balanced and accurate.
- Monitor and analyse financial transactions and activities.
- Analyse various registers from all sites for cost analysis and reporting.
- Ensure compliance with accounting standards and company policies.
- Assist with month-end and year-end closing processes and financial reports.
- Support internal and external audits as needed.

Grain Management:

- Process user administrative requests in the grain management software system (e.g., transfers, certificates, corrections, and instructions).
- Handle full invoicing functions and maintain controls regarding transfers, certificates, and producer facilitation.
- Report to various stakeholders on grain balances, transaction summaries, and the status of instructions.
- Monitor and process requests for document changes and corrections. Analyse the reasons and potential impacts of these requests and report any irregularities.
- Maintain and regularly review silo owner master file records and data.
- Manage and process legal entities involved at a silo (e.g., grain owners and producers).
- Analyse and reconcile grain management transactions.
